The Rockland Breakwater Lighthouse, the only one of its type in the nation, was in deplorable condition in 1999 when we began. Ceilings were falling in, stair steps were missing, wood was rotted, plaster was hanging from walls and ceilings, pipes were broken, doors were displaced and debris was throughout the station. We have come a long way in the restoration process but we have a long way to go. This monument, a worldwide symbol of the City of Rockland, must be saved for future generations to enjoy.
